HIBERNIANS

Adopt Strong Resolutions Condemning Action of British Government.

Will Erect Memorial Church to the Poet Priest of the South.

Joseph McLaughlin and Mrs. Mary McWhorter Elected National Presidents.

MEET NEXT IN SAN FRANCISCO

Great enthusiasm was shown at the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at the Copley-Plaza Wednesday morning, when Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell scored the dismissal of the appeal of Sir Roger Casement, and urged the delegates assembled to adopt strong resolutions condemning the action of the British Government. The delegates, without a dissenting vote, carried out Father O'Donnell's suggestion. After passage they were sent to the American Ambassador in London and Bishop O'Dwyer, of Limerick. The same action was taken in the convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary. The rest of the session was taken up with the report of officers and the reading of a long letter of congratulation and encouragement from Cardinal O'Connell.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held their session in Convention Hall and were visited by Cardinal O'Connell, accompanied by Rev. Joseph C. Copping, P. R., and Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell. Cardinal O'Connell made a short address in which he praised the Irish woman for her purity and loyalty. He then offered the prayer of the convention in English, after which Rev. Patrick N. McDermott, of Massena, Chairman of the Irish History Committee of that State, said the same prayer in Gaelic. Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly, the National President, reported on the Irish question at length and also the plan for the memorial to Catholic nuns who lost their lives in the civil war. Thursday morning there was a solemn requiem mass for deceased members and two business sessions of the Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliary, hearing reports and spirited discussions. At night the joint banquet was held at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, when addresses were delivered by Gov. McCall, Mayor Curley, Hon. Claude G. Bowers, Hon. James A. Gallivan, Hon. Peter F. Tague, Hon. Alexander A. Rorke, Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell, Hon. Francis J. Horgan and Matthew Cummings.

Much business was transacted Friday. John O'Dea, of Philadelphia, Chairman of the Resolutions Committee, made his report, and the resolutions were adopted without discussion. The resolutions condemning the British Government for the verdict in the case of Sir Roger Casement were passed without opposition. The following cablegram was presented by Rev. Patrick N. Turner, of Iowa, to be sent to Sir Roger Casement:

"We, the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of America, in National convention assembled, are with you in spirit and desire to tell you, in life, that your efforts for Ireland's independence have not been forgotten and your memory shall ever remain green in the hearts of Irish men and women throughout the world."

The resolutions on "Hyphenated Americans" declared: "The hyphenated American is the enemy of the Irish race which is embodied in our citizenship. We are proud of the race to which we belong, and there is no reproach to the 'hyphen' when applied to Americans of the Irish race. The race in America has never divided their loyalty to America, either in the hour of peril or in the times of peaceful quietude."

The delegates pledged their allegiance to the Catholic church and to aid in the extension of that faith. The Federation of Catholic Societies was endorsed as the first of all influential Catholic organizations.

Resolutions were offered urging a vigorous membership campaign, which were adopted. Education, the Irish history movement, publication of a history of the order, the military branches, the Ladies' Auxiliary, the Gaelic revival and the distribution of literature were endorsed.

The convention declared for the open door on the question of immigration and disapproved the principles of Socialism.

A memorial church to Rev. Father Abram Ryan, the poet-priest of Mobile, Ala., the gifts to the Catholic Church Extension Society and establishing a home for aged Hibernians were also included in the resolutions.

The National officers elected by the Ladies' Auxiliary are Mrs. Mary McWhorter, Chicago, President; Mrs. Adella Christy, Cleveland, Vice President; Mrs. Susan M. McNamee, Medford, Secretary; Miss Margaret McQuade, Pennsylvania, Treasurer; Mrs. Susan Robinson, Richmond, and Mrs. Mary Arthur, Indianapolis, National delegates.

Mayor Curley addressed the delegates shortly before the voting began. After a tribute to the auxiliary, Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly, the retiring President, brought forward a large delegation of mothers, whose sons are now on the Mexican border, to meet the Mayor, and the women in the audience rose and sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The Mayor in closing said that he was glad to see that the members of the A. O. H. knew the words of our national hymn. He cited an instance at the time of the Spanish war in 1898. When the news of Dewey's victory was flashed to the members of the United States Senate one Senator suggested that the members rise and sing "The Star Spangled Banner." All rose, but not a man sang beyond the first two lines.

DOMINICAN ELECTION.

Representatives of the religious order of St. Dominic, known as the Order of Preachers, are gathering in Rome from all parts of the world and within a short time will elect a Master General. The American representatives left for Bordeaux, en route to the Holy City, about the middle of the month, among them being Very Rev. J. Raymond Meagher, O. P., Provincial of the order in New York. The term of office for the Dominican Master General is twelve years. The Very Rev. Hyacinth M. Cormier, who is now in his eighty-fifth year, completed last May his term as General. By Apostolic authority he continued in office until the delegates can be assembled for the election. The troublesome times have naturally caused many delays.

The following American fathers will participate in the election: Very Rev. Raymond Meagher, New York City; A. L. McMahon, San Francisco; J. A. Hinch, Prior of St. Antonius, Newark, N. J.; F. D. McShane, of the Dominican House of Studies, Washington, D. C.; J. A. Briscolle, Seattle, Wash.; E. S. Olsen, Prior of Portland, Ore.; F. A. O'Rourke, Antioch, Cal.; Louis Perez, New Orleans; J. B. Moore, British West Indies.

CONTRARY TO RULE.

During the present torrid season it is the customary rule with all fraternal societies to meet and only transact routine business, adjourning quickly, and no discussions or talks prolonging the sessions, but the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., in Bertrand Hall Monday evening proved an exception. A good attendance was present, and strange to say nearly every one present tried his hand at discussing the question before the house and instead of an early adjournment President John Hennessy had a hard time in shutting off debates after a three hours' session. And to show that they were still ripe for argument a motion to hold another meeting was only beaten by one vote. Con Ford, Joe Lynch, Fred Mooney, Tom Downey, T. J. Langan and Tom Lynch were leaders in the fray all evening, and all agreed that it was a rousing meeting of the old style type. John Riley, Joseph Hennessy and John B. O'Daly were elected to membership and the application of Tim Kelly was received.

CATHOLIC WEEK.

The week beginning Sunday, August 20, will be known as "Catholic week" in New York City, the following Catholic societies and organizations to meet there: The American Federation of Catholic Societies, the German Roman Catholic Central Verein, the Catholic Young Men's National Union, the Gonzaga Union, the New York State League of the Central Verein and the New York State Federation of Catholic Societies. Cardinal Farley, Cardinal Gibbons, Cardinal O'Connell, the Most Rev. John Bonzano, Apostolic Delegate, and many Archbishops and Bishops will be present. On Sunday, August 20, Pontifical high mass will be sung at St. Patrick's Cathedral by Cardinal Farley, and Cardinal Gibbons will preach the sermon. John Whalen, President of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, will preside at a mass meeting to be held in the Hippodrome. Cardinal Farley will speak and the musical numbers will be furnished by the Metropolitan Opera House Orchestra and German Choral Societies.

GOOD WORK DONE.

Not the least interesting of the many reports to be made at the Supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus at Davenport next week will be that of the Commission on Religious Prejudices, which Col. P. H. Callahan, of Louisville, is the Chairman. This body was created by the Supreme convention two years ago to study the causes for the widespread religious bigotry that seemed to be prevalent, and was given an appropriation of $50,000 with which to carry on its work. That it has accomplished much along the lines for which it was created there is no doubt and its report will be listened to with great attention.

CHARITIES PRESIDENT.

The Rev. Michael J. Scanlan, Director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston, has been appointed to succeed the late Judge Harvey H. Baker as President of the Massachusetts State Conference of Charities.

ENGAGING BANDITS. During the sudden attacks by Mexican bandits the United States troops have used their transport wagons as a means of shelter.

LOOK TO "ALL-VICTORIOUS GERMANY"

The German-American Alliance received the indorsement of the Hibernian National convention and the following greeting was sent to that organization:

"We the Ancient Order of Hibernian, in convention assembled, extend to our fellow-citizens of the German-American Alliance or German birth and origin congratulations for the successes which have been won by the Fatherland, and we hope all-victorious Germany at the end of this war will help with the liberation of Ireland."

IRELAND

Events Now Indicate a General Election Not Later Than November.

Believed Lloyd-George Intends to Supersede Redmond With Devlin.

The Irish Question Is in a Dangerous Element at This Time.

ENGLAND REJECTS AMERICANS

Irish Press News Service. Dublin, July 16.—Events on both sides of the channel indicate a general election not later than November. Premier Asquith has agreed to introduce immediately the Irish Government bill, which threatens to be amended to its death in the House of Lords. Lord Lansdowne, of the Cabinet, repudiates the Lloyd-George-Devlin agreement in a second statement, demanding that the bill be submitted to the voters and predicts the defeat of the measure. He says that England will not reward Irish treason and that the Government is being held up by revolutionists. John Redmond, having refused to call a National convention according to custom, an independent convention is expected to take a strong stand against the scheme to dismember Ireland. Redmond has staked his leadership of the Parliamentary party on the measure, and the surrender of the Lords and the defeat of his opponents in Ireland he predicts. Premier Asquith hints that further concessions will have to be made by Lord Lansdowne before the bill will be accepted. The inquiries into the disastrous Mesopotamia and Dardanelles campaigns threaten to wreck the coalition Government and the Irish question in Parliament is a dangerous element at this time.

The more the dismemberment plan is studied in Ireland the more widespread becomes the opposition. There is no doubt but Lloyd-George intends to supersede John Redmond and make Joseph Devlin leader of Ireland. The plan of a great British federation of colonies after the war appeals to the British imperialists and Devlin has hopes of making Ireland an important West British State with himself as the Irish Premier. He has noted the popularity in England since the war of Premier Botha, of the Transvaal, and Premier Hughes, of Australia, and he believes with the great influence of Lloyd-George, in the event of a successful war, that the elimination of the six Ulster counties is but temporary and that after the war Ireland will be a State with all thirty-two counties united.

The removal of the wealthiest industrial section of Ireland creates financial problems so difficult that the twenty-six counties may not be able to maintain a prosperous government and the plan invites failure from the start through lack of ample taxable property. The most capable business men are left out of the home rule territory and the politicians to be entrusted with the operations of the bill lack the necessary training and experience to produce revenue yielding branches which will not inflict oppressive burdens. Sir Edward Carson tells his Unionist friends in Dublin to be patient for a year or two, as the compromise measure will show the utter incapacity of the people in Leinster, Munster and Connaught to govern the country, the act will be repealed and home rule killed forever. The brewery and tramway interests of Dublin expect to run the new government and the first clash will come from their attempt to saddle taxation on the farmers. A most bitter opposition to the bill is noted among the farmers of Tyrone and Fermanagh in the North and who will now be ruled by Belfast, with the result that recruiting has fallen off to an extent alarming the army officers. The continuance of martial law in peaceful districts has caused great ill feeling and more uprisings are predicted. Upwards of 1,700 men and women rebels are still in prisons. The arrest of member of Parliament Ginnel is resented.

S. S. McClure, the American publisher, who was detained for some time by the British authorities on his arrival at Liverpool on the American liner Philadelphia, must return to the United States today on board the same vessel. The British Home Office declined to grant a permit for McClure to stay in England.

The British authorities have also refused permission to land in England from the steamer Philadelphia, which arrived in Liverpool, of New York, Treasurer of the Irish relief fund; his wife and his assistant, Joseph Smith, of Lowell, Mass. Previously two members of the Irish relief fund, John Gill, of New York, and John A. Murphy, of Buffalo, had arrived in England and were allowed to proceed to Ireland. Thomas Hughes Kelly is the Treasurer of the Irish Relief Fund Committee, of which the Honorary Presidents are Cardinals Farley, Gibbons and O'Connell, of the United States. Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet is President of the fund. Messrs. Kelly and Smith have about $100,000 for the benefit of the sufferers in Ireland. Mr. Kelly is a Papal Chamberlain and one of the largest real estate owners in New York. Mr. Smith is editor of a newspaper at Lowell, Mass.

An exciting scene, indicative of the strong feeling which prevails among the Irish members occurred in the House of Commons Wednesday night when Timothy Healy charged the Government with arresting 2,000 innocent persons in the course of the Irish rebellion and treating them with a cruelty and ferocity which even Germany has not shown in Belgium. The Home Secretary, he added, by his administration, had started the Sinn Fein organization in Ireland, and therefore was father of the movement.

TAKES GOOD PLACE.

Joseph E. Hill, for a number of years with ex-Senator Jacob Horwitz, the building contractor, and widely known throughout the city, has accepted a position with the P. Bannan Pipe Company. Mr. Hill has had business experience, and it is predicted he will prove a valuable addition to the Bannan Company force.

BAPTIST

Takes Firm Stand Against Persecution of Fellow Catholic Citizens.

Roman Catholic Has Right to Be Here and Worship His Own Way.

Unchristian to Join in Hue and Cry Raised by the Menace.

SHEER FAIRNESS AND HUMANITY

The following article by a writer in the current number of the Baptist World, a local publication, calls attention to the fact that the methods and tactics employed by the Menace are an incentive and promise of religious persecution. The writer discusses seriously the non-sensical logic of the Menace publishers, his only mistake being that he does not allow for the method in the Menace's madness, and that is the graft from the poor dupes who read and swallow its wild-eyed warnings and inflammatory utterances. The article is as follows:

There was a flavor of decided wit in the hit made by Artemus Ward when he said of the Puritans of New England that "They came to this country to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience and to keep other people from worshipping him according to theirs."

It is a fundamental principle in our government, grafted on the constitution through Madison, who was elected to Congress by the Baptists to do this very thing, that people shall worship as they please without molestation. To pursue any people relentlessly for things merely imaginary that they are supposed to wish to do, and to dog them on an imaginary basis of apprehension, comes well-nigh being persecution.

Now I'm an old-fashioned Baptist, and couldn't be anything else so long as I understand the New Testament as I do, and there's not much danger of my having any change of view on the subject. Being a Baptist, I am for liberty, and therefore am opposed to even a semblance of persecution, no matter how it is masked or plausibly disguised. Let every tub stand on its own bottom, no matter whose tub it is. So long as the spirit of the constitution is complied with, I am for anybody, worshipping his way.

All this is suggested by the policy of a paper which has gained wide circulation throughout the country, which paper is called the Menace. The "menace" resisted by that paper is the Roman Catholic system of America. While I am about as far from sympathy with the views and principles of the Roman Catholics as one can well be, and while I know the history of the system tolerably well, I don't at all share in the policy of a paper that not only imagines dire disasters and predicts havoc, but magnifies these dreams of distortion and seeks to treat them as facts. These things are not facts, and yet the Menace exploits them as though they were, and seeks to influence the public mind as though they were actual.

So long as the Menace confines itself to facts that make against the public weal, and exposes the corruption of Rome, purely as a matter of fact, I am with it; but I decline to go with it in its predictions and to act on these as though they were in actual existence. I am opposed to the whole business on the score of fairness, and will go further and say that I do not share in the alarm that the Menace seeks to raise, and positively decline to participate in the inflammation of sentiment which that paper seeks to produce. It will be time enough for inflammation when these supposed or imagined things come to pass. It is idle to say that it will then be too late. I do not believe a word of it. This country is too intelligent, too cautious, too wise and too wide-awake to suppose for a moment that any system can be clandestinely nurtured and maintained to the extent of disrupting and bringing about the dire ruin that abides, for the most part, in the imaginary compartment of the brain of the Menace.

Looking at its attitude and policy, its utterances and wild predictions, there is danger of the Menace persecuting while seeking to provide against persecution. The logic of the whole business is that we constitutionally provide for the Roman Catholic church, and then we are round and make it as intolerable for it to exist in America as possible. If everybody outside Roman Catholicism agreed with the Menace we should practically say: "Yes, come along; you have as much right here as anybody, but understand that we are going to make it as hot for you as we can. We are going to ding-dong at you and make you rue ever wishing to plant yourselves on American soil." That is precisely where the logic of the Menace carries it. I submit that it would be much more honorable and fair just to raise the barrier of intolerance outright and say to the Roman Catholics: "We draw the line on you; you must be excepted from the universal principle embodied in the first article of the constitution, which provides that all religionists, of whatever possible type, may worship as they wish."

I am very far from defending or advocating the Roman Catholic religion; that is their business; but I am just as far from building a platform of imagination or of pure supposition and proceed to dog and ding-dong everlasting from this airy position. This is in the interest of sheer fairness and humanity. The Roman Catholic has a right to be here; he has a right to worship and conduct his system his own way; and we have a right to criticize it, to expose it as much as we please, to call all his attention to our wish, to show that it is decidedly undemocratic in its tendency, if that can be established, to go back and show what its history has been and all else; but when we undertake to infer and conclude from certain premises what the outcome will be, treat those inferences as facts and proceed to fan a flame of sentiment on these arbitrary inferences—excuse me.

The basest criminal has rights that must be respected, and unless we propose to close our eyes to one of the fundamental rocks of our constitution, we can not go to the length to which this self-same Menace goes. These people are humans, they are citizens of the national fabric, and it is more than a trifle take or blunder to pursue a policy like the one pointed out—it is wrong.

It is nonsense to share in the conclusion of the Menace. Were the Roman Catholics to undertake to do what the Menace indicates, the anti-clerical spirit of America would make that of France child's play. It is unfair, unpatriotic, unmanly and inhuman, and more, unchristian to join in a hue and cry like that raised by the Menace.

VINCENTIAN.

Members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of this city made an excellent showing Sunday morning at St. Elizabeth's church, when over 500 received holy communion in celebration of the feast of their patron, who was the great exemplar of true Christian charity. Rev. Father Assent was the celebrant of the mass, and in a forceful and eloquent sermon he expressed his delight to have the society visit his church. Really one of the best of the diocese. In the afternoon the Vincentians again assembled, filling the Knights of Columbus hall. President John A. Doyle occupied the chair and Rev. Eugene Donohue offered the prayers. Reports of conferences were read and showed that in all parts of the city much real charity work was being done. The address was delivered by the Rev. Father Baxter, O. P., of St. Louis Bertrand's, and was one that inspired every one who heard him. Quite a number of new members were received into the society by President Doyle, who declared the day's observance reflected great credit on the Catholic men of Louisville.

NEW SERGEANT CHESTER.

Boyd Chesler, the well known Twin City League star and member of the Orioles club, who joined the First Regiment during the war scare, has been promoted to Sergeant. He writes local friends from Fort Thomas that he is more than pleased with the life of a soldier boy and that he will try for a regular commission.

PICNIC AND CHICKEN SUPPER.

The congregation of St. Agnes church of the Passionist Monastery are arranging for an old-fashioned picnic and chicken supper to be given on the school grounds on Thursday, August 17. In addition to the supper there will be the disposal of a horse, harness and phaeton. Admission free. Jitney busses will meet the cars.

DEMOCRATS

Have Opportunity to Secure Approval and Support of American People.

Public Indignant at Great Britain's Course and Want Explanation Demanded.

Republican Campaign Committee Not Exactly Satisfied With Hughes' Progress.

AXTON'S FIGHT FOR CONTROL

The Republican National Campaign Committee is far from satisfied with the progress of the Hughes candidacy and the improvement looked forward to this past week has failed to materialize. There is a lack of life at the headquarters; too much recognition of the Progressives and a reawakening of the old quarrel between the latter and the old-line Republicans. In the different State conventions the Progressives have been at indorsing Hughes despite the efforts of the leaders, and strange to say, despite the advice of their former chieftain Roosevelt. Nominee Hughes is doing everything in his power to stir up interest, but unfortunately is not a rousing campaigner or mixer. His political successes in the past were due to public sentiment which carried him into office. He has never been the popular idol of the people, only the instrument which the public used to accomplish its end. Right now there is no real enthusiasm in the Republican party and a pulmotor is needed to revive interest.

As stated last week in these columns, President Wilson has the opportunity of his political career and the success or failure of the Democratic party throughout the United States depends upon his action with Great Britain. The President must make a firm stand and call the hand of John Bull in the present series of high-handed insults and outrages being meted out to the people of the United States. In the Senate the other day Senator Martine, of New Jersey, said: "Great Britain has dictated policies to the United States and attempted to control our foreign and domestic conduct. She has dictated our policy with regard to the building of the Panama canal, which we built and paid for; she has rifled our mails, she has stopped every American ship that sails the seas at her own pleasure, and taken them into her own ports for examination; and now we are helplessly awaiting her next move." Senator Martine might have added the story of the black-list and boycott of American firms; the refusal to allow an Irish Relief Committee to land with aid for the sufferers whom England has imprisoned and persecuted; the entrance into American waters of a British cruiser, and the latest, the refusal to allow Publisher McClure, a representative American, to cross English soil.

In the above is President Wilson's opportunity from not only the standpoint of Democrats, but also from the standpoint of any true American citizen who resents the actions of this bully. It is also his chance if the President doesn't act then Congress will force action, but as stated above, it is Wilson's opportunity, and on his position depends the success or failure of the Democratic party, not only the President's race, but in every contest throughout the nation. A ringing rebuke of England and a demand for an explanation of her conduct will secure for him the support of the American people in the great majority, the only dissenters being the Tory Americans and paid English press.

The local fight for the Republican Congressional nomination waxes warmer every day and the man chosen to oppose Congressman Shoreley will have a badly split party behind him. Aside from the combination of Owens and Bruner to beat Dr. Ryans, the popular choice, there is being staged an effort for the come-back of Wood Axton, the Mayoralty Bull Moose choice in 1912. Axton aims to secure control of the Republican machinery and in addition to landing the nomination for Mayor will attempt to dictate the whole municipal ticket next year. The combination behind Owens is Axton, Chilton and Searcy, backed by the Junior Order or Know-nothing element. Opposing them and behind Dr. Ryans is the old guard or liberal element of the Republican party, representative men like ex-Gov. Willson, Marshall Bullitt, Joseph Conkling, ex-Sheriff Scholl and others being in the forefront. The latter would redeem the party from the Know-nothing element, who are Progressives one year and Republicans the next, and support being given to the party that will listen to their narrow-minded and bigoted dictation. To secure the naming of two election officers the Owens people are giving out with great gleam the latest acquisition to their ranks, Theodore Diehl, candidate for State Senator.

Following the announcement that Sheriff Cronan, Senator Knight and ex-Mayor Head would be candidates for the Democratic nomination next year, it is also being rumored that Joseph Nevins, Squire Frank Dacher, Squire John O'Brien, Squire Ben Schulman and Joseph Ludwig would be in the field for County Commissioner; Will Dennis and Tom O'Connell for Police Court Clerk; Robert Hagan and Thomas Walsh for Police Judge; George B. Barrett for Auditor; Bud Norton for Bailiff Police Court.

HYPOCRISY EXPOSED.

England's latest repudiation of home rule for Ireland and the refusal to allow the landing of the Irish Relief Committee shows this hypocritical bully in her true light. Yet some of our pro-English papers on this side of the water often refer to John Bull as the protector of small nations.

HELP THIS FUND.

The Million Dollar Factory Fund movement is the most important business undertaking that Louisville has ever experienced and should succeed. It means more factories, more business and better conditions for the working people, besides a large increase in population. It also means that men will not longer be leaving Louisville to seek employment elsewhere. Every one who loves this city should help this fund.

LOWEST DEPTHS.

Kicked out of the Democratic party through impeachment, ignored by the Republican party, snubbed by the Progressive party, beaten for the nomination in the Prohibition party, ex-Gov. Bill Sulzer, of New York, is finally nominated for President by the A. P. A. party, who pose as the American patriotic party. Down to the lowest depths, so to speak.

ACCEPT SUGGESTION.

Disappointed at the fizzes of the Fraternal day celebrations of the past couple of years, the Junior Order promoters have accepted the suggestion made in these columns that the parade take place at night, when more of a certain element will march. Here's another suggestion offered gratuitously: Let the marchers carry a dark lantern, being emblematic of their work at times.

BLACKLISTING.

The blacklisting of some eighty firms and individuals by the English Government is a natural corollary of the seizure of our mails to which the business secrets of these firms were consigned. This blacklisting is not only a serious business for the firms, but it is serious for the nation, because if the Government does not take vigorous action it will mean the utter dislocation of trade, since no firm would be safe from the application of the blacklist. For the blacklisting does not mean only that British subjects are debarred from doing business with the firms named, but that they must not do business with any firm or corporation trading with them. Hence neutral trade will be affected to our disadvantage; nay, more, it will give the English the right to confiscate non-contraband cargoes to records if any near or remote dealings with these firms can be proven. Shipping companies will not receive cargoes for these firms or any of their correspondents. In short the blacklisting interferes with our internal trade to an extent that would make the English "trading with the enemy law" have among us the force of an act of Congress. This is humiliating in the extreme, but it is what the cowardly and biased-in-English-favor policy of our Government has brought us to. Now it is time the people took matters into their own hands for the honor of the nation. It is time the administration were made to understand that England's encroachments on our rights must cease, and that if she persists in her present course it will mean an embargo on all exports to the Allies. Our mails should be immune from the prying eyes of English officialdom, even if we had to turn our warships into mail carriers—which, by the way, would be putting them to a nobler purpose than using them as ball-rooms for Newport's upper tennismen.

UNION SHOP STAND.

In times of trouble, strikes and lockouts, writes Frank Duffy, of the American Federation and a student of the labor question, the non-unionist takes the place of the unionist—works any hours, under any conditions and at any pay, thus making it more difficult for the unionist to win out. The non-unionist acts the part of the strike-breaker and allows himself to be used as a club by the employer to defeat the trade unionist. When the trouble is over and normal conditions again prevail he enjoys the increase in wages and the reduction in hours of toil won by the union men. He is not entitled to these things. He did not establish them. He did not even help in any way to establish them. He opposed them. They therefore do not belong to him by any means. They belong solely to the union man, and when a man takes that which is not his he is not looked upon as an honest man. It is quite natural then that union men who have sacrificed time and money, and stunted and starved themselves and their families in order to establish better conditions, should feel offended not only at the lack of sympathy of the non-union men, but their positive refusal to assist them in obtaining concessions for their mutual benefit and protection. It is quite natural, too, for the union men to feel resentful toward the non-union men in their determination to remain out of the union—thereby leaving them free to continue their despicable work of strike-breaking and keeping the wage-workers down. It is hardly possible under these conditions that union men will take kindly to and work with non-union men without raising objections of some kind. Therefore when non-union men are found working on a job the union men absolutely refuse to work with them. Such action is said to be un-American and inhuman, but let me ask: Is it un-American to ask and fight for increased wages, better working conditions and the like? Is it inhuman? Nothing of the kind. Those who have not the spirit of self-defense in their make-up are not worthy of better things and should be shunned. They are shunned, and proof of it is shown when the union man refuses to work with the non-union man.

Though announcement has been made that Sir Roger Casement will be executed next Thursday, the question of a reprieve is still in abeyance, as strong influences are being exerted in behalf of the leader of the Irish uprising.

The Prohibitionists are good men and may mean well, but they appear to have hindered instead of helping the movement by their vagaries at the St. Paul convention. They have no more chance of electing a President than of growing wings.

Georgia again has the unenviable distinction of leading the list where mob law is exemplified. Eight of these atrocities were perpetrated in that State during the first six months of the current year.

Diplomatic relations with Mexico remain at a standstill. Washington has reached no decision on the Carranza note of July 11, but continues the movement of troops to the border.

All must now agree that Ireland's liberation depends upon union among her sons.

There are thirteen vacancies in the College of Cardinals.

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

Cardinal Gibbons on Sunday marked his eighty-second birthday anniversary, spent at Union Mills, Carroll county, by declaring for universal military training as the best possible thing for America. He was in fine spirits and excellent health and expressed the opinion that military training would safeguard the nation, keep it at peace with the world, uphold its manhood and fuse its many foreign strains into one patriotic people. "Order is the first law of heaven," he said, "and order comes from authority and obedience."

EXCURSION TOMORROW.

Tomorrow the Catholic Knights of America will have their annual excursion to Jasper and Ferdinand, Ind., the train leaving the Seventh-street depot at 7:45 in the morning. In order to insure its success the committees have left nothing undone that will contribute to the pleasure of the trip. During the afternoon at Jasper there will be an inspection of the military company by Gen. Michael Reibert, of Louisville, and the Adjutant General from Chicago. The Indiana Knights will have a hearty welcome for the Kentucky visitors.

INTO ETERNAL REST.

Sister Rufine, aged sixty, for forty-three years a Sister of Charity of Nazareth and for thirty years in charge of the office at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, was called into heavenly rest Monday morning. She had spent a noble and holy life, but had been in poor health for several months, due to her age. Sister Rufine is survived by three sisters, Misses Hannah, Bridget and Anna Nagle, of 1930 Bank street. A requiem mass was celebrated for the deceased in the hospital chapel Tuesday morning, following which the body was taken to Nazareth and buried in the community cemetery.

PICNIC FOR ORPHANS.

There is never a happy family that listens to the laughter of its own children scampering through the house that has not a heart "full of melting pity" for the little ones of those whose lives are cast in such different circumstances—the children handicapped from birth and worse, upon whose defenseless heads lies the heavy hand of heredity and environment. The tragedies of the day are constantly casting little helpless specimens of humanity upon the wide world, begging with their innocent, appealing eyes and manners that some one may love and protect them. It is in behalf of such as these that this appeal is made.

Up yonder on Crescent Hill stands St. Joseph's Orphanage, whose wide spreading roof shelters nearly 200 little ones, ranging in age from one to fourteen years. The Sisters in their great loving hearts can always find time for these poor little objects, heretofore of friends and means. To help help the Sisters in this mammoth undertaking of caring for those entrusted to them the St. Joseph's Orphan Society and the Catholics of this city have planned a picnic, to be given on the orphanage grounds, Wednesday, August 3, which promises to be one of the largest open air entertainments of the year. Let every family in the city be represented on that occasion and contribute their share toward helping the society and the kind Sisters at St. Joseph's to carry on their work of charity. Henry Bosse is Chairman of the Executive Committee, and thirty-nine sub-committees, headed by representative Catholic citizens, are now busy preparing for the greatest gathering that has ever met on the spacious grounds.

SHOULD SEE DOCTOR.

Many tributes have been paid James Whitcomb Riley, whose death the country mourns, but none express a finer feeling than that of the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of Louisville, who said: "Anybody who does not love Riley through his verses lacks humor and there is something radically wrong with anyone who lacks humor. He should see a doctor at once." Bishop O'Donoghue gave the following written expressions on the death of Riley:

"I had the pleasure of being well acquainted with the poet, James Whitcomb Riley, for many years while I resided in Indianapolis. He was a great favorite in his native State, where his genius was highly appreciated. He contributed more than his share to the entertainment and amusement of his generation, and his memory will not soon fade. His passing away will bring regret to many who knew him only by his

PRINCE AND PRINCESS.

The rumored engagement of the Crown Prince of England and the Royal Princess of Italy has caused keen satisfaction in both countries.

SONG OF THE SIXTY-NINTH.

We are the fighting Sixty-ninth, The Cassidy's, O'Tooles, The Flannigans and Brannigans, The Gallaghers and Pooles, The Ryans and the Bryans, too, The blood of Irish kings In every khaki-covered breast A song of battle sings.

We are the fighting Sixty-ninth, O'Connells and Magees, McGarritys, O'Flahertys, And Hogans and McPees. For sure it is to go and fight An Irishman enlists, And if the ammunition fails, We're handy with our fists.

We are the fighting Sixty-ninth, The Moores and Callahans, The Kellys and the Kerrigans, The Caseys and McCanns, The Hogartys and Fogartys, First and forevermore Americans, and after that True, Celtic to the core. —Minna Irving.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Cardinal O'Connell was happy welcoming the national convention. In the division at South Bend are five veterans of the Union army in the civil war.

The three-hour session of Division 4 Monday evening was certainly some gabfest.

The new National Vice President for Canada, Peter J. Doyle, comes from Montreal.

The division at South Bend, Ind., is the pioneer Catholic society of St. Joseph county.

Delegates to the national convention were highly pleased with their treatment in Boston.

At their meeting last night the Ladies' Auxiliary of Denver had another well attended class initiation. Quite a good many members have gone to Dayton, Akron and Toledo in answer to the call for mechanics.

Why not get some of the younger members to put a Hibernian team in the Twin City League next season?

Division 1 of Los Angeles has donated $1,000 from its treasury to the fund for Irish widows and orphans.

Time now hangs heavy with Matt O'Brien and Denny Crowley, of Division 3. The Louisville ball club is away.

Don't forget the moonlight excursion of the Hibernian Social Club next Monday evening. Foot of Fourth street.

Gov. McCall, greeting the Hibernians in Boston, insisted that "the Irish are and always have been Americans first."

Mayor Curley made a hit with the Ladies' Auxiliary, who would if they could make him Mayor of Boston for years to come.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Wednesday evening and hear reports from the delegates to the Boston convention.

The Hibernian Social Club requests full returns for moonlight excursion tickets at the meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Resolutions on the death of George Holland were read at the meeting of Division 4, of which he was a veteran member.

New York State will show great advancement during the past year at the State convention in Schenectady next month.

Division 3 will hold its quarterly daylight meeting tomorrow afternoon and President L. J. Mackey urges a large attendance.

There was much enthusiasm at the meeting last week of Division 2 at Utica, N. Y., when the list of applications was presented.

Ladies' Auxiliary of 3 of Indianapolis will have a "show" in Fountain Square Hall for the country store at St. Patrick's church lawn fete.

Mrs. Mary McWhorter will make a worthy successor to Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly as National President of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Under her leadership the order should increase and flourish.

ST. COLUMBA'S LAWN FETE.

A lawn fete for the benefit of St. Columba's church will be given on the church grounds, Thirty-fifth and Market streets, next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Social games will be played each afternoon and supper will be served by the ladies of the congregation. As a special feature Miss Ida Schwind, who made her debut in New York last fall and who has been on a concert tour, will sing on both evenings of the lawn fete.

CHURCH IN IOWA.

The State of Iowa has 357,444 Catholics, four dioceses, 587 priests and 489 churches.

RECENT DEATHS.

Monday morning the funeral of Patrick Larner was held from St. Patrick's church. For years he was employed by the Louisville Gas and Electric Company and surviving him are a son, John Larner, and four daughters.

Mrs. Mary Walker, an aged member of St. Charles church, died early Wednesday morning at her home, 2316 Madison street, leaving ten children, all residing in this city. Her funeral was held yesterday morning, Father Ratto being the celebrant of the requiem mass.

Mrs. Mary Klein, aged sixty-nine, widow of William Klein, succumbed to a long illness Wednesday morning at her home, 1513 West Market street. Surviving her are three sons, William H., Frank and George B. Klein. She was a respected member of St. Anthony's church, where the funeral services were held Friday morning.

Funeral services over the remains of Martin J. Murphy, of 2423 West Broadway, were held Monday morning at St. Charles church, and were attended by a large number of mourning friends and relatives. For many years he had been a brick builder and contractor and was respected by all with whom he came in contact. Besides his wife he leaves a large family.

St. George's parish mourns the death of Mrs. Anna M. Rose, wife of John Rose, who passed away Sunday night at her residence, 1445 South Eighteenth street. Besides her husband, Mrs. Rose is survived by five sons, Henry, George, John, Jr., Albert and Lawrence Rose, and two daughters, Misses Christine and Elsie Rose. The funeral was held Wednesday morning.

Death claimed Mrs. Mary Wells, of 949 South Twelfth street, Monday morning, due to a complication of diseases. She was the widow of Jacob Wells, and is survived by a daughter, Miss Emma Wells; a son, Leon Wells; three brothers, Edward Wells, Peter Wells and John Simon Wells, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Zippel. The funeral was held Wednesday morning from St. Louis Bertrand's church.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Ritman, a pioneer member of St. Boniface church, was held Tuesday morning. She was the widow of J. B. Ritman and lived at 718 East Broadway. She is survived by the following children: George, William, Joseph and John Ritman, Mrs. Henry Twickler, Mrs. George Aufenkamp and Miss Anna Ritman. She also leaves fifteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

VISITS SICK PRIEST.

The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue spent Tuesday in Elizabethtown, visiting the Rev. Father Hugh Daly, whose illness has caused his friends grave apprehension. Father Daly is one of the oldest priests in the diocese.

CLIFF HAVEN.

An unusually successful season of the Catholic Summer School at Cliff Haven is now assured, the grounds being thronged daily and all the cottages crowded. The lecture courses are popular and well attended, a constant round of social events beguile the pleasure loving, and the glorious weather brings crowds every day to the golf links, tennis courts, and still fields, and to all the various water sports—swimming, rowing, canoeing, sailing, motor-boating, etc. To live a typical Cliff Haven life is to partake daily of a spiritual banquet, an intellectual feast, an athletic carnival and a social soiree.

NUMBER STILL NEEDED.

There are still a number of requisitions on file from poor priests asking for candle-sticks, crucifixes and other things. The Catholic Church Extension Society is in a position to send six neat brass candle-sticks, together with a brass altar crucifix, to a missionary upon the receipt of a donation of $15. A ciborium costs the same. If you are desirous of sending either of the above mentioned articles to some poor mission, the Catholic Church Extension Society, McCormick building, Chicago, will be pleased to receive the donation.

DUE TO WAR.

Since the outbreak of the war the cost of living in Ireland has increased 41.2 per cent. Bread is nine cents for a two-pound loaf, sugar nine cents a pound, milk seven cents a quart and butter thirty-two cents a pound. These prices were 40 to 50 per cent. higher than the normal.

HAVE HARD FATE.

The women of Japan are forced to do all kinds of manual labor. Recently girls loaded 2,300 tons of coal into the hold of a steamer in less than seven hours.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

The council at Lafayette, La., now has an enrollment of 300.

The present membership is 368,135, an increase of over 21,000 during the past year.

The council at Solomon, Kas., made a special contribution to the Peter's Pence collection.

Only four Directors are to be elected at Davenport, the Supreme officers being chosen biennially.

The Chicago Chapter will have its annual midsummer outing today, and hopes to have ex-Gov. Glynn for the orator.

The Supreme officers have appropriated $25,000 for comforts for members with the National Guard camped upon the border.

With the Apostolic Delegate there will be a dozen Archbishops and Bishops at the supreme convention next week at Davenport.

The annual picnic of the Knights of Peoria will be for the benefit of the orphans of St. Aloysius Home. A feature will be the presence of the St. Louis Choral Club.

The fourth will be exemplified tomorrow for a class of 250 at Davenport. Among the speakers will be Most Rev. John Bonzano, Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Davis and the foremost members of the Supreme Council.

Archbishop James J. Keane will preach the sermon at the mass in the Sacred Heart Cathedral when the convention opens Monday. When the body goes into session the address of welcome will be delivered by Gov. Clarke.

WILSON IS LUCKY.

We give the Wilson administration credit for getting out of more dangerous scrapes than we thought the country could get into under any one President. Of course we are not safely out of all trouble yet. But we are on our way. We have been at war with Huerta, shook our fist at Germany, started out to "get Villa" and ran into hostile Carranzistas at Parral and Carrizal, and still we are at peace. It is wonderful. Now if we can only get Pershing's army safely across our border we won't go after any more bandits.—True Voice.

RECEIPTS INCREASE.

Receipts from national forests for the fiscal year 1916 reached the high-water mark of approximately $2,820,000, according to figures just compiled. This is $341,000 above the 1915 total, which in turn exceeded any previous year.

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

Few men have filled out a life so complete with endeavor and accomplishment as Cardinal Gibbons. He has celebrated the fifty-ninth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. In 1856 he received the red hat, and this July he reaches the age of eighty-two. He has lived in a way that will serve as an example to others coming along life's road. The influence for good he has exerted can not be measured, for it will never cease to exist. In his "The Faith of Our Fathers" he has given the world a lasting testimony of his power and influence, and through that volume's argument many converts have been made.

WOMEN VOTERS.

In the coming Presidential election women over twenty-one years old will be allowed to vote in Illinois, California, Kansas, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, Arizona, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada. The totals number over 3,000,000, half of which are in Illinois.

PLAYERS WHO WILL TAKE PART IN THE TWIN CITY LEAGUE FIELD MEET.

O'LAUGHLIN,
Olympics.MORRIS,
Mackin.

LONG ROAD TRIP.

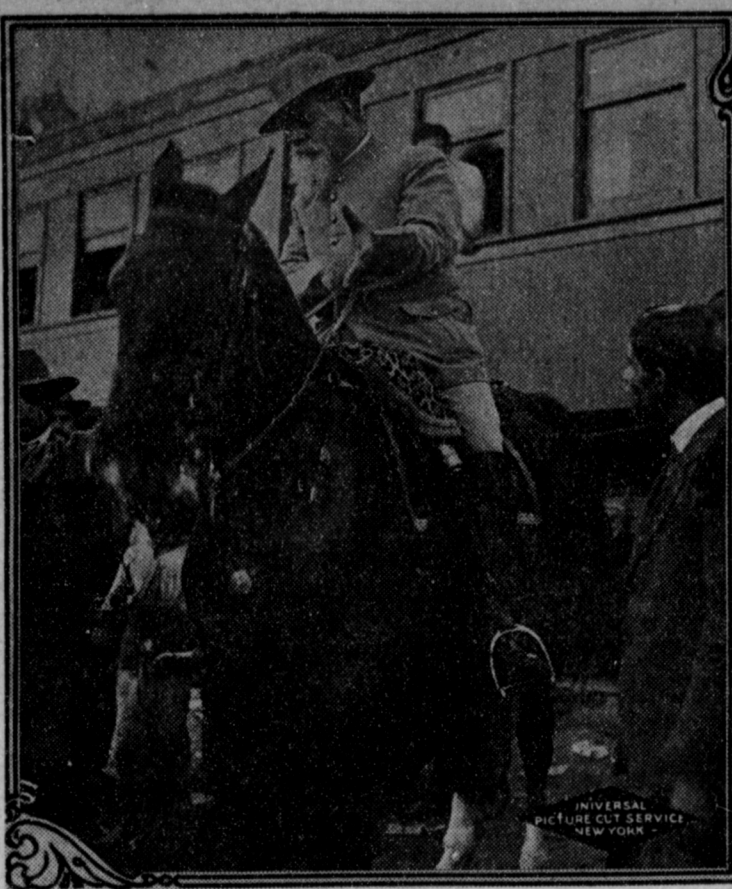

The Louisville team will play again at Indianapolis this afternoon, tomorrow and Monday, then going to meet Roger Bresnahan's fast coming Toledo bunch in a series of five games. The Colonels will then swing through the four Western cities, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee and Kansas City in turn. On their return trip they will play at Columbus and Indianapolis, this with the postponed games to be played being over forty, making a severe test of the Colonels' ability, and if they can hang onto the first division then some exciting baseball is promised in September. Louisville now has a good corps of pitchers equal to any others in the league, and with the present improvement in hitting they should meet no stumbling blocks in foreign territory. With a better brand of catching during the recent home stay the club would have gone away in first place, and this weakness can hardly be excused by sport writers who said Williams was overworked when catchers like Sweeney, of Toledo, catch every game.

GROCERS' PICNIC POSTPONED.

On account of the severe storm on Thursday, July 20, the retail grocers decided to postpone their outing and picnic until Thursday, August 3, at Fontaine Ferry Park. Another baby show will be held and a number of handsome prizes, of value equal to those offered at the first show, will be conferred on the winners. Another feature of pleasure in the evening will be a strength contest, or "lug-of-war," between the Hibernian Giants, under the direction of Thomas J. Dolan and John H. Hennessy, and the "Hefty Grocers," captained by Martin J. Doll and George H. Lammer. In the event the Irish team wins the prize will consist of a large Irish flag, whereas if the grocers succeed in the contest a large American flag will be presented to the winning team. President Hennessy states, however, that his team "will pull the grocers around the lot." Contests for the children will be held late in the afternoon, consisting of sack races, egg races, pie-eating contests, all of which had to be called off on account of the bad weather. The stock of goods for the country store has been replenished, and great bargains will be offered. The Ford automobile contest will be concluded at 10 o'clock, rain or shine.

NEARS THREE SCORE.

The Right Rev. Edward J. Hanna, Archbishop of San Francisco, on Friday of last week celebrated his fifty-sixth birthday. Archbishop Hanna is also Commissioner of Immigration for California.

GEN. CARRANZA—MEXICO'S FIRST CHIEF.

The most talked of man in the Mexican crisis, whose note to the United States Government started the militia moving to the border.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

Twin City fans who were not present were surprised to hear of the decisive beating given the Champs by Mackin Sunday, the score being 10 to 1. In justice to Manager Coleman's hustlers it must be explained that O'Brien, Murphy and Hogan were out of the lineup, but on the other hand even with their presence it would have been hard to predict the outcome. Morris, the Y. M. I. star twirler, striking out seventeen men. The K. of C. club won a prettily played game from the Imperials, 3 to 2 being the final result. Clifford's hitting being the feature. The Orioles surprised the talent by trimming the Olympics in a 10 to 5 game, Weber, of the victors, making two home runs. Johnny Murphy, twirling for the Bertrands, outpitched his brother, Will Murphy, of the Trinity team, the Limerick boys winning 15 to 6. The game of games is again on the card for tomorrow, the Champs and K. of C. to meet on Diamond 2, and if the Knights win it is pretty near a safe bet they will win the flag, as victory will give them a two game lead, while a Champ victory will again tie matters up. Other games are Trinity vs. Olympics, Mackin vs. Bertrands, Orioles vs. Imperials. Standing to date:

Clubs	W.	L.	Pct.
K. of C.	12	2	.857
Champs	11	3	.786
Mackin	9	5	.643
Bertrands	7	7	.500
Imperials	6	8	.429
Olympics	6	8	.429
Orioles	5	9	.357
Trinity	0	14	.000

In the language of the war correspondents, substantial gains were made by all of the leaders in the Twin City popularity contest this week, the most noticeable being made by Kenealey of the K. of C. Morris of Mackin, Soeder Steinbock and the pacemaker Haragon, of Bertrands. As two are to be sent it has been reported that a couple of combinations have been formed, one rumor being to the effect that a certain team is going to see to it that their popular battery will go in recognition of their services. Another story is that one of the leading teams is plugging to send their manager and captain to the big show. It is now a pretty safe bet that the pennant winners will be Brooklyn or Boston in the National and New York or Boston in the American, guaranteeing a trip worth while to the winners. Remember the winners go with all expenses paid, railroad fare, hotel bills, berths, etc., and reserved seats to the games. The standing to date, exclusive of clipped ballots:

Haragon, Bertrands	420
Steinbock, scorer	130
Kenealey, K. of C.	130
Morris, Mackin	110
Killoran, Orioles	90
Coleman, Champs	90
J. Scully, Olympics	80

Donnelly, Trinity	30
Mattingly, K. of C.	30
Lally, Mackin	20
Ohlischlager, Trinity	20
Chester, Orioles	20
Bosler, Trinity	20
Scheckler, Mackin	20
Voor, Imperials	20
Eschman, Imperials	10
Murphy, Bertrands	10
Flynn, Bertrands	10
Bossmeyer, K. of C.	10

GALAXY OF TALENT.

A galaxy of vaudeville talent, the like of which has never been offered in the Park Theater, is that announced for presentation in the theater at Fontaine Ferry Park next week. Headlining this reputed sterling bill will be the musical comedy star, John E. Henshaw, and the dainty ingenue, Grace Avery, in their latest offering, "A Vaudeville Table d'Hôte." The Famous Newcomers round out the programme with a gymnastic specialty, which is said to comprise a rapid succession of thrills. Adhering to its policy of always keeping the big swimming pool in a sanitary condition, the management of the park has the pool emptied, cleaned and sterilized every night. That the public appreciates this fact is evinced by the tremendous business the pool is doing. The ladies' sessions, which are held every morning from 9 to 12, are well attended. At such times free instructions are given those desirous of learning to swim. The mixed sessions are also well attended and the management is gratified over the showing made by the pool this season.

MATIAS POSCHINGER.

Louisville lost a public spirited citizen and St. Boniface church one of its most active and respected members when Mathias Poschinger passed away at St. Anthony's Hospital, where he had undergone a delicate surgical operation. The news of his death cast a pall of gloom throughout the city and from all sections came expressions of sympathy for his survivors. Mr. Poschinger was a native of Germany, coming to Louisville in 1885. Honest and industrious, he has been very successful and had high standing in business circles, being interested in a number of enterprises that gave employment to large numbers, one of them the American Machine and Elevator Company. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Schnell Poschinger; a son, Frank Poschinger; two sisters, Miss Frances Poschinger and Mrs. Anna Graf, of Louisville, and three sisters living in Germany. He was a member of St. Joseph's Orphan Society, Knights of Columbus, St. Vincent De Paul Society and the Liederkranz and Concordia Singing Societies. The funeral was held Wednesday morning and was one of the largest seen at St. Boniface church in recent years.

HIBERNIAN MOONLIGHT.

Many of the older folks as well as the younger ones are looking forward to the moonlight excursion of the Hibernian Social Club on Monday evening on the beautiful steamer Homer Smith, as they know a Hibernian gathering is always in the nature of a reunion, where one can meet old friends and acquaintances. Boat will leave foot of Fourth street at 8:15. Tickets for children twenty-five cents and adults fifty cents.

PRIESTS CELEBRATE JUBILEE.

A big event of the week in Kentucky Catholic church circles was the celebration at Colesburg on Thursday of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the elevation to the priesthood of the Rev. John Gastaldi and the Rev. Vincent Solola, of this diocese. The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue presided at the religious services and a hundred visiting priests from different churches of the diocese were present. The Rev. Father Hayes, of Bowling Green, preached the jubilee sermon.

QUIETLY MARRIED.

The marriage of Miss Martine Wathen, popular in local society circles, and H. Norman Waddington, of Baltimore, was solemnized quietly Wednesday morning in the parlors of the St. Louis Bertrand convent, only the members of the immediate family being present. Mr. and Mrs. Waddington have gone to Baltimore, where they will make their home.

PROMOTIONS.

Upon the recommendation of Mayor Buschmeyer City Assessor Buechel has appointed Jerome King, Jr., and Hugh Wanless, former employees of the Engineering department, to positions as draftsmen in the Assessor's department. The new positions are in the nature of a promotion with better salaries. The first named is the son of Councilman Jerome King.

TRINITY COUNCIL MOONLIGHT.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., will give their second moonlight excursion of the season on the steamer Homer Smith next Thursday evening, this being given in deference to the many requests for a repetition of the first enjoyable affair in June. Boat will leave Fourth street at 8:15 o'clock sharp. Tickets for adults fifty cents, children twenty-five cents.

ORDERED FROM IRELAND.

The Rev. James Horace Markley, a Catholic priest of Chicago, and Richard Ebbett, a native of Nebraska, who moved to Ireland and established a business there four years ago, asserted upon their arrival in New York last Sunday aboard the steamship St. Paul from England that they had been ordered by the British authorities to leave that country.

PORTUENCLIA INDULGENCE.

In order to honor the occasion of the celebration of the seventh centenary of the Portuencula Indulgence divinely granted to the great St. Francis and confirmed by Pope Honorius III., His Holiness Pope Benedict has granted a special concession in a Pontifical brief addressed to the Very Rev. Father Cimenio, General of the Order of Friars Minor. In this brief Pope Benedict extends the Portuencula Indulgence throughout the whole year that will begin on August 1, 1916, and will end on August 2, 1917.
